Membership of the Global Alliance of Entrepreneurial Universities

Universities across the world are facing the same set of complex challenges. Our membership offers you the opportunity to be part of a network of supportive, inspirational and innovative universities.

The Alliance creates an opportunity to work on common challenges facing universities, ranging from employability and the world of work through to innovation and sustainability. Be at the forefront of new thinking with partners across the world.

The benefits of membership are that you will:

- Gain increased visibility and profile for your university and leaders
- Keep up to date with innovation and best practice in enterprise and entrepreneurship
- See how other universities have responded to similar challenges
- Grow your international relationships.
- Have opportunities to engage and develop yourself and your teams.

Free membership

Free to join as part of the Alliance you will get:

Becoming a member

As a member you commit to our principles to:

- Nurture enterprise and entrepreneurial partnerships between communities, universities and students.
Building enterprising and dynamic communities with innovation at their heart will create a thriving and successful society. Economies that are supported by creative, ground-breaking talent will regenerate local communities and ensure our cities and regions remain at the forefront of new development. Enterprise and entrepreneurship should provide opportunities for all. We wish to see all universities placed at the heart of their local communities, and supported to develop long-term partnerships.
- Support entrepreneurial higher education leadership.
Higher education is changing as universities adopt different modes of delivery and diversify their offer. Senior leaders in higher education tell us that their top challenge is dealing with the complexity of external challenges facing their institution, and their number one priority is managing internal change. We need to support our higher education sector to manage change and be entrepreneurial in its practice. We wish to see universities supported to develop their entrepreneurial leadership.
- Embed enterprising and entrepreneurial practice within the university.
Creativity, taking the initiative, making things happen, reflecting, communicating, pivoting and adapting, storytelling, taking responsibility, networking, personal effectiveness and managed risk taking will all be essential for future success.

Terms and conditions

Our commitment to you

Membership of the Global Alliance of Entrepreneurial Universities confirms our continuing commitment to working with you to support the development of enterprise and entrepreneurship.

Membership reflects the nature of the collaboration and partnership NCEE has with the higher education sector. Members help shape the work we do through regular discussions and advisory meetings.

Each year we will design events and programmes to meet your priorities. These events and programmes may require a fee.

As members of the Global Alliance, member higher education providers will continue to have access to resources. When you register as a user of membership services, we will contact you by email to keep you updated about news and membership updates, events and activities. This is under our legitimate interest to do so, as outlined in NCEE's Privacy Notice.

If you do not want to receive these communications, you can inform enquiries@ncee.org.uk. You can also use the unsubscribe button to stop receiving any email communications.

To be a member we would expect at least one user per member.

Criteria for membership

If you want to access membership benefits you need to:

1. Be a higher education provider, recognised by the regulatory authorities in your country; and
2. Agree to the principles of membership, namely:
 - a. Nurture enterprise and entrepreneurial partnerships between communities, universities and students
 - b. Support entrepreneurial higher education leadership
 - c. Embed enterprising and entrepreneurial practice within the university

Membership indicates a commitment to quality, and to maintaining confidence in higher education. This commitment is underpinned by an expectation of good conduct and professionalism. Membership may be suspended or terminated if a member, or user:

- Acts in a way that brings it or the higher education sector or NCEE into disrepute
- Is found to be in breach of any regulatory condition, standard or requirement
- Breaches these membership principles.

Membership fees

Standard membership is free and will run from 1 August to 31 July.

Premium membership has an annual fee. The fee is available on our website.

We will review membership prices annually and will communicate any changes before the end of the membership term.

Membership will renew annually, unless the member notifies NCEE one month prior to the annual renewal.

Membership will terminate automatically in the event of any change which affects the member's ability to meet the membership criteria.

Membership includes places at our webinars, access to our monthly digest, partners throughout the globe, discount on training programmes, conferences and events and further opportunities as become available.
